

Alvaro Moretti new Deputy Director of Il Messaggero

Rome, March 19th, 2018 - Caltagirone Editore S.p.A. announces that, from April 3th, Alvaro Moretti will take the role of Deputy Director of Il Messaggero, leaving, after 6 years, the direction of Leggo.

Moretti, 52 years old, began his career at La Stampa, Il Tempo and then at Paese Sera dealing with sports, shows and politics. Since 1996 he has worked at Tuttosport where he was responsible for the editorial staff of Rome and managed tuttospport.com.

As director of Leggo, Moretti has accompanied the social development of the newspaper, making it the first Italian social press with a strong digital vocation and a leading role in the storytelling of Italian and international show business.
